ABOUT THIS CALENDAR :

The information provided within this Calendar is for general informational purpose only.

While I tried my best to keep the information accurate and correct, remember to first use your heart-mind and intuition when navigating your way through life, they are your biggest guides followed by the stars.

Each month there will be a drawing representing a mudra and the flower of the month.

A mudra is a Sanskrit term which denotes a codified and symbolic position of the hands of a person. The idea being to develop a more conscious meditation practice using mudras to adapt to the energy sought.

Through this calendar I would therefore share 12 different mudras.

MUDRA OF JANUARY :

Chin or Gyan mudra

Essential in the practice of yoga or meditation.

Chin Mudra -fingers turned towards the Earth- increases self-understanding.

Gyan Mudra -fingers pointing to the sky- increases understanding of the universe.

Soothing effect, increases concentration and receptivity.

The index finger represents the human being, the individual soul -atman or ego-, and the thumb represents the divine, or the universal soul -Brahman or the Absolute-

The thumb -fire- associates with the index finger -air-, and this forms a circle for the energy to flow inside without going out outside.

HOW TO USE THIS CALENDAR :

There are two downloadable versions:

January_moon_calendar_A4.pdf

January_moon_calendar_A5.pdf

The A4 file is made to have two separate pages.

The A5 file is to have the meaning and the month of January on the same sheet.

I let you choose the format that suits you best according to your utility.
